RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

FRANK W. MAYO, B. S., M. ED.

To the Members of the Graduating Class:

Four years ago you and I entered this high school as freshmen. We have worked together four busy years, you to fit yourselves for a useful life, and I to assist you on the way. Each of us has had successes and failures, but the failures have served only to make us more determined to succeed.

We have tried to have you live in a miniature replica of society, so that you may know how to conduct yourselves in society, as well as knowing something about it. Only the future can tell whether we succeeded.

A prominent educator once said, "No one really begins to live until he has recollections." As you approach the closing of your high school career, take a backward look over the last four years of your associations with classmates and teachers. Recall to your memory the high lights of your experiences; live over again some exciting moments of team play, when the last minute seemed like an hour, or that dramatic moment when the curtain closed on a wave of applause; consider the quiet, helpful talks with an adviser or coach. These are the lights. But do not forget the shades,—the tardy bell, the detention hall, the failed tests, and the defeats. Put everything before the mirror, the lights and the shades; they constitute your recollections that no one can take away from you. If you look closely you will see that the lights make playthings out of the shades.

You have graduated!

For the majority of us our days in Rutland High School are days that we shall be able to recall with pleasure. As we travel our individual roads, we shall find that thoughts of our good times in high school will more and more often be with us; but while we are indulging in reminiscences, we shall discover, also, that many names and details we were certain could never be forgotten have left us entirely. We shall find ourselves wondering who it was that took part in our Senior play, who the debating champions of '35 were, or who the president of this or that club was.

It is with these thoughts in mind that we, as members of the Talisman staff, have worked to make this edition of the year book one that will enable us to recapture and retain memories of our four years in high school.

However, if we have succeeded in our purpose, it has been only with the assistance of our faculty advisers, Miss Bernice Sargent and Mr. Andrew Boratis, who have never failed to cooperate with us in our efforts. We wish to show our appreciation, also, to our principal, Mr. Frank Mayo, without whose advice we could have accomplished little, and to those faculty members who have helped us to make summaries of the activities of various sports and clubs.

JOSEPH R. ABATIELL "Joe"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1; Boys' Leaders' Corps 1, 2; Home Room Activities.

Joe's cheery disposition and ever-present smile have made him one of the best liked boys in the class.

HOWARD ADAMS "Howard"

College

Baseball Squad 3; Home Room Basketball 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 3; Class Baseball 2, 3; Varsity Track 4.

Howard may be bashful, but when it comes to math—is he a whiz!

EILEEN J. BAIRD "Baldy"

Commercial

Hockey 4; Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 4; Class Volley Ball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Baseball 1, 2, 3, Captain 4; Girls' Leaders' Corps 4; Senior Chorus 4.

A bundle of pep, a grin and a hearty greeting—here's one person who is welcome anywhere.

J. JOSEPH BARTON "Joe"

Manual Arts

Class Baseball 1; Gym Exhibition 1; Home Room Basketball 3; Boys' Leaders' Corps 4; Camera Club President 4.

Want your picture taken? Just call on Joe who has done much for the success of the Camera Club.

BERENICE I. BEAUCHAMP "Bernie"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 3, 4; Home Room Secretary 4.

The boys may be jealous of Bernie's basketball ability, but the girls are all agog at having such an athlete among the fair sex.

Manager 1; Baccalaureate Committee 4; Talisman Staff 4; Red and White 4; Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Commercial Play 4; Gym Exhibition 1, 3.

"Bill" has both looks and brains, but what he has is not confined to his head alone. You should see him type.

ELAINE D. BRIDGE "Elaine"

Normal

Elaine has been a willing worker and a staunch supporter of our class.

FRANK BROPHY "Frank"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 1, 4; Class Baseball 2, 3, 4; Track Squad 3, 4.

Although you haven't heard much about Frank, he is always ready to do his share.

GEORGE BROUSSEAU "Bus"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3; Monitor 3, 4; Camera Club 3; Class Gift Committee 4; Home Room Relays 3; Senior Play 4.

A true high school hero is this "black-haired, pink-cheeked Skipper of 101," beloved by all the girls and liked by all the fellows.

College

Class President 3, 4; Home Room President 1, 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Red and White 4; Talisman Staff 4; Honor Roll 1, 3, 4; Student Council 1, 2, 3, 4; Forensic Society 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Freshman Reception Committee 4; "Dude Ranch" 3; Home Room Basketball 2, 3, 4; Field Hockey 2, 3, 4; Monitor 3; Head Monitor 4; Chairman of Ring Committee 3; Girls' Leaders' Corps 3, 4; Usher Committee of Senior Play 4; Chairman of Ticket Committee of Senior Play 4.

You'll have to look a long way to find another like Berla. Her list of activities speaks for her versatility and everyone will vouch for her personality.

MARY W. BROWN "Babe"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 2, 3.

Mary has always shown herself a truly good sport in anything that comes along. With this quality she's sure to go a long way.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

ROSCOE BRUCE "Rock"

Academic

Home Room Treasurer 1.

Roscoe and his wisecracks are well-known among the seniors. Wherever one sees him there is sure to be entertainment.

JULIA BUFFUM "Judy"

Normal

A rosy, cheerful person who has helped to make these school days pleasant.

RUTH E. BUMP "Rooie"

College

Forensic Society 3, 4; Honor Roll 2, 3, 4; Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Red and White 4; Talisman Staff 4; Volley Ball 2.

Ruth is always there with a new idea,—it may be wearing Dad's old hat or devising a weapon for the next war, but leave it to the girl with the lolly-pop.

GRACE A. CARRUTH "Grace"

Social Arts

A good sport and a loyal supporter of R. H. S. is Grace.

AUGUSTINE CASEY "Gus"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 4; Class Baseball 3, 4; Home Room Relays 4; Track Squad 4.

MILDRED CASTLE "Milly"

Commercial

Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3; Class Baseball 1, 2, 3; Home Room Offices 1, 2, 3.

A quiet personality, a true-blue friend, and one who has our best wishes for the future.

ROBERT CATOZZI "Bob"

Manual Arts

Varsity Football 4; Class Baseball 1, 2; Varsity Baseball 3, 4; Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 2; Varsity Basketball 3, 4; Home Room Relays 3, 4.

"Bob's" flashing smile and friendly personality have won him many friends of both sexes in R. H. S.

CAROLINE CAVANAUGH "Mickey"

Normal

Home Room Basketball 1, 2; Art Club 4; "Old Spanish Custom" 2; "Lady Behave" 1.

"Mickey" is the friendly little miss with the delightful giggle which always bursts out at the wrong times.

FRANCES COBB "Effie"

College

Home Room Secretary 1; "Lady Behave" 1; Field Hockey 2, 3, 4; Class Baseball 2, 3; Volley Ball 3; Home Room Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Talisman Business Board 4; Chorus 1.

"Effie" is one of our popular lassies, with a faculty for "going places and doing things." Whether it's supporting the athletic contests or entertaining the "knitting club," Effie's there.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

DOROTHY MARY COBURN "Dorothy"

Normal

You rarely see Dorothy when she isn't laughing, and let's hope you never will. "Laugh and the world laughs with you" — that's Dorothy's creed.

EDWARD J. COOK "Ed"

College

Football Squad 2, 3; Varsity 4; Track Squad 3, 4; A. A. Revue 2.

Whenever you need a good friend you are sure to find one in "Ed."

PETER CORSONES "Pete"

College

Varsity Football 2, 3, 4; Varsity Basketball 2, 3; A. A. Revue 2, 3; Home Room President 1, 2, 3; Home Room Basketball 1, 2; Home Room Relays 3; "Dude Ranch" 3; Athletic Council 3; Monitor 3.

Who can truthfully say he hasn't watched "Pete" and liked it, either on the football field, on the basketball court, or on the stage?

MELBA LOUISE CROWLEY "Melba"

Normal

Home Room Basketball 1, 2; Red and White 4; Forensic Society 4; Talisman Staff 4; Chairman of Class Motto Committee 4; Monitor 4; Honor Roll 1, 3, 4; Senior Chorus 4.

Melba is a very calm and collected person with more than average intelligence, as you may see from her success as a debater and from her work on the Red and White and Talisman.

MABEL M. CURRIER "Pat"

Normal

Chorus 4.

Mabel's dark, wavy hair and snappy, black eyes have made her a favorite of both the boys and girls.

MARY R. DENARDO "Nick"

Class Song of 1935

New friends, new scenes, can ne'er replace
The priceless treasures gathered here,
Our friendships, sorrows, joys, and cares
Will be to us forever dear.

Through those who've guided on our way,
Our new adventure starts aright,
And though our way be long, and tried,
We'll always face the beck'ning height.

On paths of every separate life,
In twilight years, we'll fondly bless
The dreams, the sighs, the smiles, the tears,
That we have shared at R. H. S.

Class Gift

A few years ago several boys took up the study of Domestic Science, or in other words, they had the good intention of mastering the art of cooking. Although this venture continued for only a short time, its results were very noticeable.

This masculine intrusion into the sphere of feminine activity brought about such disastrous results that the class of '35 has found it very appropriate to present to the Home Economics teacher a sum of money sufficient to replenish the supply of chinaware in this school.

Speaking for the class of '35, I sincerely hope that this gift will, in the future, eliminate the merry search for china carried on in the past whenever there occurred banquets or other social functions in this high school.

Valedictory

This evening brings to a conclusion the four happy and fruitful years which we, the class of 1935, have spent at Rutland High School. To those who have contributed so immeasurably to the success of our high school careers, we express our gratitude and appreciation. To our parents, to Mr. Mayo, our principal, and the faculty of Rutland High School, and to the citizens of Rutland, who have unselfishly given us, in these depression years, the educational advantages enjoyed by students in more prosperous times, we are indeed grateful.

Although we begin, this evening, a new and different career, the memories of our four years passed in Rutland High School will be ever with us, guiding us to the fulfillment of our hopes and ideals.

Salutatory

Tonight, for the first time during our four years in high school, there are gathered together here all those who have made possible this momentous occasion. Only through the patience, cooperation, and guidance of you, our parents, friends and teachers, have we been able to successfully conclude our high school careers. It is for this reason that I, in behalf of my class, sincerely extend to you a cordial welcome to our graduation exercises.

President's Address

Fellow Classmates, Parents, and Friends:

It is with mingled feelings that we are gathered here tonight realizing that the work and pleasure we have shared during the last four years must end. Yet because of the experience and knowledge we have gained, we face the future confidently.

We can never hope to repay our principal, Mr. Mayo, and the faculty of Rutland High School for their guidance, cooperation and cheerful helpfulness. Yet no matter what we undertake we shall be carrying on as a result of their efforts, for it is through them that we are more fully prepared and equipped to meet the problems of life.

To you, our parents and friends, whose sacrifices and generosity have made possible four unforgettable years here, we express our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation.

In the attainment of our goal — graduation — we experience a thrill of satisfaction and pride in having completed the first ascent on Life's ladder. With the initial step in our progress so firmly and clearly defined, we, the class of 1935, continue our way with assurance born of knowledge.

BERLA BROWN

Class History, 1935

Our four years' cruise was drawing to a close and I was wandering aimlessly around the deck. All at once I decided to have one last look at my favorite haunts, so I started for the salon. As I was looking for the last time at the much-beloved rendez-vous, I chanced upon the ship's log. It was worn and frayed, and the ink was dimmed and blotted in places. Old books have always been a never-ending source of interest to me, and immediately I began to glance through its pages. As I did that, I chanced upon the date, September, 1931, and realized I was about to review our activities during the first year of our educational voyage.

The first day we came aboard, the weather was fair and we gathered like a group of frightened animals before the upper classmen. After the first week or so it wasn't so bad; in fact, we began to feel too superior to suit our Senior classmen, and they took the opportunity at the Freshman Reception to reduce us to our normal size again. Sad to say, we all survived.

The weeks passed and the boys busied themselves with football, and the girls with hitting each other in the shins with hockey sticks. Of course, being raw material, we did not gain much recognition this first year.

When the first week of November rolled around, we were fairly well organized and we elected our captain and the following superior officers: Captain, Vera Eklund; Captain's Assistant, Lee Wilson; Secretary, Joe Sanders; Treasurer, Shirley Stafford.

At this time we also selected Ruth Lind chairman of the class color committee. We did little else the remainder of the year, and left the boat in June, eager to return in September, to make more of a name for ourselves.

The second year of our voyage was more outstanding in many respects. We attended dances, plays, parties, and football games, and also had a large group on the honor roll.

As exclusive events of our class we held two tea dances and helped welcome the new frosh.

The football team had a successful season under the coaching of Mr. Purdy, and the leadership of "Hop" Hostler. Some of the members of our class were beginning to stand out, and we became more enthusiastic than ever.

This also was the eventful year that our Red Raiders won the State basketball tournament. Oh, that Burlington week-end!

We had representatives in debating, cheer leading, dramatics, and all other extra curricular activities.

In June we watched the Seniors with envy. They got out a week early, but even at that we were very sorry to see them leave, for we had many close friends in the class of '33.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

When we returned to the ship the next fall we held our heads pretty high; in fact, we walked over a good many freshmen. Our officers this year were: Captain, Berla Brown; Captain's Assistant, Peg Bessette; Secretary, Vera Eklund; Treasurer, Philip Kazon.

We were grieved because Arthur Keyes and "Barb" Woods sought Prep School, but an even heavier loss was that of Phyllis Temple, one of the most beloved and popular girls in the whole school.

Time moved on and the class took over the Red and White in January under the guidance of Philip Kazon. The seniors also gave up their positions as monitors, which were to be held henceforth by the juniors.

The plans for the Prom were under way by May first and what a time we had. Cup cakes or not? How to decorate gym? In the end, however, everything was perfect, right down to Harmie Bove's punch; and every one had a grand time down among the Red and White streamers.

The National Honor Society selected from our ranks Philip Kazon, Berla Brown, and Peg Bessette.

The ring committee was chosen and by the end of May we were wearing our class insignia.

The football season was fairly successful. We won four out of the eight games, and were represented on the team by Reed, Corsones, Bove, and Bossa.

In basketball we won ten out of the sixteen games, with Rivers, Reed, Laird, Catozzi, Bove and Pete Corsones upholding the honor of our class.

This year a new club was organized, the Camera Club. It proved an extremely popular activity from the beginning, and has since continued to hold its place as one of the leading extra-curricular activities at R. H. S.

Now we returned to the educational ship as seniors. Sophistication and tolerance should have been our motto, but we couldn't live up to it; and in off moments we were as undignified as freshmen, especially when under the influence of Vera or Effie.

The year started with a bang, and did we welcome the Freshmen!

The football season was not as successful as we had hoped for, but Harris Reed made the All-State team and we all shared the honor.

The basketball team did very well with Laird, Gallagher, and Bove, as the leaders.

Committees were named for commencement, with the following selected to serve as chairmen:

Baccalaureate, William Bradford; Ivy Planting, Harmond Bove; Class Night, Mary Shakespeare; Senior Reception, Beverly Gilbert; Senior Picnic, Shirley Stafford.

New members were taken into the National Honor Society. They were Marjorie Rossiter, Beverly Gilbert, Joe Sanders, Bill Ryan, and Vera Eklund.

During the year we were under the leadership of the following officers: Berla Brown, Pete Corsones, Joe Sanders, and Vera Eklund.

As president of the student council we elected Bill Ryan.

Philip Kazon was chosen Valedictorian and Peg Bessette Salutatorian.

Roses, Roses, everywhere, and what a senior reception!

Well, the rush is all over now, and though we say we are glad, deep down in our hearts, we envy the freshmen.

I quietly closed the log, and carefully put it back on the shelf into its obscure corner. I heard the Admiral, Mr. Mayo, our friend and guide, call "All, ashore," and I joined the rest of the class to walk down the gang plank, with our heads high, ready to ascend the next rung of the ladder. And it is not without regret we say good bye to R. H. S.

Class Prophecy

How do you do, folks? How do you do? We are all happily gathered on board ship to-night after a pleasant world cruise.

On arriving in New York City, we found that it was possible to guide our yacht right up to Rutland, by way of the new Green Mountain Canal, which used to be Otter Creek.

We docked at a new River Street Bridge and were amazed at the changes that had taken place in Rutland.

While wandering around the city, I chanced upon a newly-created home for aged teachers. This home is situated on Main Street and many of my former teachers were living there.

I was very glad to talk with several of them and I spent some time there.

During the course of the conversation I inquired of the whereabouts and activities of my former classmates. I received much enlightening information and I will now present it to you in the form of a detailed report.

Paul Howard has become hard boiled, for his wife has kept him in hot water since their marriage.

Joe Barton became an expert photographer and advertises "Your baby, if you have one, can be enlarged, tinted, and framed for $8.79."

Fred Jasmin has become an aviator, because he was no good on earth.

Emmett Kelleway painted one side of his car red and the other green. He likes to hear witnesses contradicting one another.

Betty Kelly says making love is like making pie — all you need is crust and a lot of apple sauce.

Ruth Lind has developed into one of those worm-style motorists. She never gives any signal in making a turn.

Barbara Littler is busy writing a book of jokes. She is going to present her first copy to Mr. Hobby.

Nichol Phillips and Gerald Pulling are in the manufacturing business, and it is running on a basis of about fifty fifty — an order in the morning and a cancellation in the afternoon.

Shirley Richards is attending Castleton Normal School and is planning to follow in the footsteps of Miss Field.

Philip Blanchard, due to his great success in the senior play, has gone to Hollywood.

Roscoe Bruce married Frances Cobb and she regards him as a model man. The definition of model is — a small imitation of the real thing.

Berla Brown is still telling about her operation.

Mildred Castle built an automobile from a sewing machine and headed west.

Edward Cook is now a cook in the Shrewsbury C. C. C. Camp.

Pete Corsones and Bob Catozzi are coaching football at the St. Agnes School in Albany.

Howard Farr is working in the Hollywood barber shop and waves his hair when no one is watching.

Don Hinckley has opened a radio shop where he is engaged in the repair of victrolas.

Fred Johnston will soon strike out with an orchestra of his own and will play tunes similar to that of "Goofus."

Elaine Bridge is rapidly becoming the belle of all the square dances held in the Mendon Town Hall.

Pauline Hinckley created a second Grand Canyon in Shrewsbury. She lost a penny in a ditch.

Dorothy Smith possesses a musical nature. Before she married she played the ukelele. Now she picks on her husband instead.

Gladys Tarbell, Barbara Elkey, and Mae McKearin graduated from a nurses' training school and were all assigned one patient in the Bellevue Hospital in New York. The patient died soon afterwards.

Rose Mary Thomson trained her little son to be a caddy, so that he would meet his father occasionally on the links.

Winifred Walker converted her stables into a riding school. She now has three horses and a colt, which she caught while riding in the rain.

Amelia Romano is a woman tailor and has a sign outside her shop which reads "Ladies furnished in the upper story."

Janet Stratton is living on a cliff in the Catskills called "Poison Point," where one drop is enough.

Corinne Towne's husband feels that he has secured a bargain. She is 24, marked down from 39.

Clare Marchand is now married, and while opening a can of sardines the other day, she cut herself severely in the — pantry.

Francis Stanley is now a tailor and excels in making pants for Barnum's trained fleas.

Arline Sanderson is a dairy maid in the Cinderella Sweets Shop. If you ask her what she does, she will reply, "Milk chocolates."

Paul Sherman does much good in the way of saving the forests on Bald Mountain by shooting woodpeckers with his BB gun.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

Raymond Wetmore is now engaged in the teaching of his fluttering dance to a group of freshmen, so that his long association with the High School will not be missed.

After five years of married life Frances Willard said, "I had to marry you to find out how stupid you were." Bob Smith quickly replied, "You ought to have known that when I asked you to marry me."

Alma Sargent feels that it surely is too bad that this depression had to come just when times were so hard.

Patricia Savery believes that a "board" of education is a heavy shingle.

Margaret Wheeler runs a column in the Daily Herald entitled "Knows Nothing, Sees Everything, Tells All."

Arthur Snyder is now engaged in teaching Hebrew to Max Jasmin.

Mary Howard and Louise Bosworth have opened a general store in Benson. They sell everything from tooth picks to rubber boots.

Bernice Beauchamp is still trying to set a new endurance record for roller skates.

Margaret Bessette has not yet decided between Joe and Phil.

Harmie Bove, although far away from Rutland, still manages to keep in touch with the high school through a certain member of the class of '36.

Charlie Nichols and Bill Weeks are trying out their musical voices on Fred Allen's amateur hour. Here's hoping Fred doesn't break the gong.

Mary Brown is a girl whose charming personality and winning ways are securing her more friends than there are trees on Pine Hill. I hear that they are chopping down the trees on this hill.

Caroline Cavanaugh has been asked by the State Highway Department to reimburse them for the pavement she has depleted on the Pittsford Road.

Mary Denardo is becoming an expert marksman and receives pay for shooting holes in Swiss cheese.

Carmela De Pasquale is trying to qualify for a position in Cab Calloway's orchestra by blowing sour notes on a saxophone.

Gladys Dickinson is competing with Annette Hanshaw as the featured song bird with Glenn Gray's orchestra.

Cecile Duval has discovered a new way of making bread without flour. She is offering a prize to the first person who will sample some of this bread.

The Sherwin Williams Paint Company is watching Cloyce Morse with anxious eyes, because if Cloyce dies the Company will go out of business.

May Guynup is engaged in the teaching of sports in the academy at Waterbury.

Pauline and Myrtle Johnson have put Center Rutland on the map with their famous dance.

Grace Librizzi became a star through the use of the typewriter, and now, through the use of astronomy, she is endeavoring to become a planet.

Marion Wilder changed her name when she got married, but she is now "wilder" than ever.

Lorraine Whitcomb has taken a great liking toward spinning wheels, especially when there are four wheels and a spare.

Cornelia Vaughan is searching for a dye that will brighten her flaming red hair.

Ruth Todriff went to Hollywood and was successful in obtaining the leading role opposite Jimmie Durante in his latest success, "Tarzan and His Mate."

Valerie Steward gained a part in George White's Scandals of '36 and was complimented by George.

Zetta Myers became Queen of Salmania. Her "Floating Power" keeps the grass cut short so that she won't become lost around the palace.

Charlotte Philburt has not lost her great gift of quietness. She is still the quiet girl she was when the report cards came home.

Milton Doloff has entered the pugilistic profession and is all ready to take Max Baer's place as soon as Maxie dies of old age.

Charles Gallagher has joined the House of David baseball team and his only difficulty is in keeping his beard curled.

Doug Hayden moved to Mexico in a hurry and he is now the leader of a fierce band of Mexican bandits.

George Hayles is the owner of a kennel of talking dogs.

Melba Crowley and Dorothy Coburn are editors on the staff of the "Daily News."

Don Bossa sings bass for the Salvation Army every Saturday night. We always knew that Don would make good and he didn't have to go far away from home to do it either.

Harold Taylor still has eyes for only one and is living up to his nickname, "True Blue."

Jimmie Marro operates a spaghetti restaurant on West Street. This is not an ad, but I hear that he serves a good meal.

Shirley Stafford bought up all of Lake St. Catherine and is now sure of her Saturday night bath.

Bill Murphy is still the life of all the freshman parties. "You've got to be a football hero."

Vera Eklund is the proud owner of a rabbit ranch in Northern Maine. She invites us all to "come up and see her sometime."

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

Clara Blanchard, as you might know, is helping her father on the farm. She has her "funny Ford" so well trained now that it will go out and round up the cows for her.

Richard Trinci went to college and was the cut-up in all the classes there. He even made the professors laugh.

Warren Blair has been elected mayor of Chittenden and is looking forward to being the next governor of Vermont.

William Weeks and Martha Shakespeare are doing very nicely on their farm in Clarendon. They live off the prize money Bill's cows bring in.

Mary Whittemore came back to see to it that the office is properly dusted every day.

Victor Pisanelli and Robert Kinney have gone into partnership. Their business is giving advice to men on how to dress. They guarantee that if their directions are followed no man will go without a woman's love.

Howard Adams has become a prosperous farmer and now owns a small farm, a sick cow, and a lame horse. He put his algebra book to good use when he plugged a hole in the barn roof with it.

Billy Bradford, while muckling apples, was discovered by an angry farmer with a shotgun. Bill set a new state record for the mile and is still running.

Dorothy Ward borrows one of her father's busses every evening and takes all her boy friends for a ride.

Gus Casey and Joe Abatiell still buy jelly beans in Kresge's every night after school and treat the high school lasses as they go by.

Sara Sussman has become an expert dancer and has recently opened a dancing school in New York City. All the notables gather there.

Robert Gagnon has become wealthy since he received all the dimes from his "chain letter friends," but for old times' sake he still goes around his paper route on a stream-lined bicycle.

Tom Moloney and Bud Keefe are visiting the smartest people in the world in the greatest country of the world. They have gone to good old Ireland.

Joe Sanders has followed in the footsteps of his famous brother and is preaching the Huey Long doctrine throughout the state.

When Charlotte Nourse entered a nurses' school they dropped off her old name and continued to call her just nurse.

Marjorie Morse, who lived at 55½ Summer Street, moved up one-half a house to make the number an even 56.

Katherine Morton started the fad of wearing bathing suits on the beach during the summer months.

Gina Ravenna has accepted the offer to sample some of Cecile's new bread minus the flour. We all wish you luck.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Katherine Jones has purchased a farm for the raising of bees. Here's hoping she doesn't get stung.

Sybil Johnson feels that she has become an accomplished driver and has entered the Indianapolis speed race. As a result of this entry, the track officials have removed all obstacles and have widened the track twenty feet.

Dorothy Fiske has become a famous dancer. We are rather fortunate in being able to present this young lady tonight in person and she is going to do a dance number now and prove what I have just said about her.

Phil Kazon scolded his five-year-old son. "Where is your business judgment, Jakie? Buying an all day sucker at four o'clock in the afternoon!"

Mary Smith is watching daisies grow from the wrong end. She raced a train to the crossing and the race came out a tie.

Reginald Lunt fooled us all. He has become a second Michael Angelo.

Paul Thomas has started a taxi service on Merchants Row and all of his taxis are lined with asbestos.

Otis Santwire went to Chicago and made good as a radio announcer. He broadcasts sports over the radio.

It appears as if Iona Woods made good her name, for Iona Woods now does own a woods in Mendon.

Eileen Baird and Mabel Currier are trained nurses in the Rutland Hospital. They are a little disappointed because they have been working two weeks and haven't landed a doctor husband yet.

Frank Brophy and Roy Hinckley feel that they rated a drag to graduate from high school as soon as they did. The real reason, however, was that the teachers could not stand them for another year.

Maurice Beauchamp, needless to say, is a druggist of world wide fame.

Reva Bess and Ruth Bump have edited a book entitled "How to Get Your Man." It gives such good advice that it is now a best seller.

George Brousseau upon leaving high school, got a permanent position posing for the Arrow shirt ads.

Julia Buffum is the chambermaid, bellboy, proprietor, and her best guest at the Eagle Inn.

Alfred Filie and Ray McMahon are now playing professional baseball and living up to the reputation they made for themselves in high school.

Frank Kingsley is still looking for a date.

John Kotuby got apoplexy trying to figure out why the members of the trig class didn't buy slide rules the size of Mr. Ewing's eight-foot one.

Helen Rutkowski and Anthony Pokrywka both went to college to learn how to spell their names and as far as we know they are still there.

William Rivers is still in love with Berla.

Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

Mary Shakespeare is still astounding people with her clever remarks.

Stewart Stevens liked to play with the slide rules and compasses so well that he came back to take Mr. Ewing's place.

Lawrence Perry is still talking and he hasn't said anything yet.

Theodore Thompson found life altogether too unbearable, so he stepped off the curbing one day into a mud puddle and disappeared from sight forever.

Jane Dyer sold her car — if you want to call it that — to the U. S. Government to be used as a war tank for training purposes. Jane is sorry now that she sold it, because she used to get more exercise riding than she does walking.

Isabel Plumley tried horseback riding as a means to reduce. The first week Isabel lost four pounds and the horse lost twelve.

Gordon Heath has drawn many cartoons for local newspapers, but as yet he has drawn no pay. Keep up the good work, Dean. You'll be a Mickey Mouse yet. I mean a Walt Disney.

Ralph Olson and Elwyn Parker have opened an ideal school for youngsters. The school day is only an hour long and the pupils eat candy and rest during that time. As Ralph and Elwyn are the teachers, we can see that the children do not learn anything.

Altha Hudson entertains her boy friends every night at her home and frequently has parties.

Olive Hudson has purchased a gallon of gasoline. Now all she needs is an airplane, instruction book, and a helmet, and she'll be a full-fledged aviatrix.

Harris Reed and Margaret Lloyd have married. A saying of Harris's is, "If love's a dream, marriage is an alarm clock."

Donald Moore is teaching Chemistry in Oxford University. After his first year, all that the students knew was that nitrates were lower than day rates.

Marjorie Rossiter deserves a lot of credit from us all. She graduated from the head of her class just to prove that she could not be licked.

While George Laird was escorting Roberta O'Brien home from a dance one night, a savage dog attacked them and bit George on the public square.

Grace Carruth and Ruth Greene recently passed their final tests and are now full-fledged girl scouts.

Jennie Lanzillo was fortunate in securing a job as waitress in The Rutland Restaurant.

Bill Ryan is a famous eye doctor in Hawaii. All the Hawaiian girls are crazy about him.

Beverly Gilbert and Dorris Fish get up at eleven o'clock every morning and have only one breakfast. They used to chisel an extra breakfast on Mrs. Gilbert when they were late for school.

Class Will, 1935

To whom it may concern, be it known that we, the Class of 1935 of Rutland High School, sadly aware that our existence in this institution is rapidly drawing to a close, and aware that in the chaos and confusion that follow our passing, souvenirs of our sterling qualities will be sorely needed, do avail ourselves of this opportunity to bequeath to various persons and institutions sundry goods and chattels. Being of sound mind and body, and influenced by no one, we do hereby say and declare that this is our last will and testament.

To the class of 1936 we leave the privilege of sitting in the front seats of the auditorium and assure them that said seats are as hard as any in the hall.

To the class of 1937 we leave permission to address Sir Charles Mott by his first name.

To the class of 1938 we leave a package of green lollypops to be eaten at the Freshman Reception so they may not feel too grown-up.

The individual seniors leave their most prized possessions as follows:

Philip Blanchard leaves his spats to Frank Buck to be used as rat traps.

Vera Eklund leaves to start a fire with the living room furniture. She might as well get some benefit out of it before Keefe returns again.

Corinne Towne leaves her poetry to Fu Manchu's torture chamber.

May Guynup leaves a bit and harness to her brother, Carl.

Ralph Olson leaves a veil to Dick Tracy to replace that polo coat.

Peg Bessette leaves Mr. Ewing with nobody to brag about.

Melba Crowley and Ruth Greene leave to shoot it out with Casper Milque toast.

Louise Bosworth leaves to support Newell Carns.

Francis Stanley leaves before he is kicked out.

Frances Willard leaves with a string around Bradford McKirryher's neck.

Frank Brophy leaves a bunch of golden rod to Mr. Hayden.

Billy Bradford leaves an unused "Blue Beard Razor Blade" to the "Beardless Wonders."

Bob Kinney leaves his notorious sister with the idea still in his mind that the stork should have been shot for dope peddling.

Valerie Steward leaves Jane Fenton to hold hands with Dudley on the way home from school.

George Hayles leaves his bulging chest to Johnny Parker.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the

"Mo" Beauchamp leaves "Honey" to sweeten the faculty's disposition.

Barb Littler leaves Howard Sabin a sack of chicken feed to cut his teeth on.

"Brooky" Rivers leaves to swap picks with Jimmy Crossman.

Harmie Bove leaves his patriotism to "Red" Dorion. He won't eat spaghetti because Mr. Purdy says, "Beware of all foreign entanglements."

Alma Sargent leaves the recording, "Things Might Have Been So Different," to Maurice Roberge.

"Radio Rex" Bossa leaves a set of broken ear phones to Mr. Mayo to aid in keeping order in assemblies.

Howard Farr leaves with a bransack to get the Brandon Shadow.

Doug Hayden leaves to pull weeds on the front lawn with Miss Fields.

Pat Savery leaves a pair of silk stockings to Mary Houghton. You can't pull the wool over the boys' eyes.

Ed Cook leaves an excerpt of a letter to George Corsones: "Dear George, Have attended several Greek Restaurants lately, not because I like them so much, but because I'm crazy about bicarbonate of soda."

Roscoe Bruce leaves the commandeering of the "Black Aces" to the one who best enjoyed their serenading, Mrs. Spooner.

Elwyn Parker leaves a bottle of "Lilac of France" to Frank "Lifebuoy" Hodor.

Mary and Martha Shakespeare leave their family tree to anyone willing to rake the leaves.

Al Filie leaves for the atmosphere of the ancient history class where he can compose another "In My Solitude."

Don Hinckley leaves for Sing Sing to see that none of the boys are ineligible.

Mary Denardo leaves a seat in the school bus, right behind the driver, to Jean Bossa.

Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

Warren Blair leaves a tin pail to Joe Romano for gathering momentum.

Pat Currier and Gladys Tarbell leave several cases of strained eyes.

Arthur Snyder leaves his best regards to Mrs. Morrill and says he never smoked a better ten-cent cigar than an "Il Penseroso."

Bill Weeks leaves with a full pail of milk and "That'll be enough from you," to the cow.

Theodore Thompson leaves to get together with Charlie McClallen.

Carmela De Pasquale and Mary Brown leave their quiet ways to the boys in Manual Training.

Howard Adams leaves to find out if June Carbine will donate the seat of his pants for a bulletin board.

Don French leaves his high-powered drag to the residents of Chittenden for spring plowing.

Myrtle and Pauline Johnson leave their speed to the Center Rutland Fire Department.

Shirley Richards leaves a shotgun to Miss Bailey to aid in producing future French plays.

Joe Abatiell leaves his old shoes to the undergraduates of the "Locker Room Quartet" to be used at "Bang Bang" LaFossa's wedding.

Reva Bess leaves to hold down the south end of Los Angeles.

George Brousseau leaves his smooth ways to the boy who taught him how — Harry Allen.

Grace Carruth leaves her long string of broken hearts to the Cinderella Sweets.

Bob Catozzi leaves his love for Pete Bove to be used in a future "Popeye the Sailor" cartoon.

Berla Brown leaves her popularity to the savior of the Green Mountain State, Harold Saunders.

Pete Corscnes leaves for the "Jungle" to open his new restaurant to be known as "Belle of the Gutter."

Lawrence Perry leaves his remarkable success in the office to the Bureau of Foreign Wars.

Ray McMahon leaves Bill Week's mangled form to the cause of the terrible conflict, Charlotte Barlow.

Jane Dyer and Harold Taylor leave the Brown Rover and the True Blue Town Car, their mechanical wonders, to be used as Maxie Cohen's grades A and B.

Bill Ryan leaves his remarkable mastery of French pronunciation to Roy Atwell, the Famous Radio Comedian.

Roy Hinckley leaves the "Hoot Owls" without even bread and water.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Reginald Lunt leaves to join "Razz" Johnson and the Boys for their weekly appearance at Mac's.

"Legs" Kingsley leaves Henry explicit orders to abolish all buzzers in this fair edifice and establish railroad whistles.

Sara Sussman leaves the presidency of "The Micks of Rutland" to the boy who was robbed in the first election, Alfred Swyer.

Paul Sherman leaves a padlock to all stores on Merchant Row. "Cuffer Smith isn't dead yet.

Frances Cobb leaves a bottle of spirits of ammonia to anyone else who tries to inhale.

Bob Gagnon leaves the pronunciation of his last name to anybody with a cold in his head.

Dot Coburn leaves Ray Richardson for Bobby Bird.

Cloyce Morse leaves with a set of brass knuckles to return to Pete Butterfield.

Eileen Baird and Bernice Beauchamp leave their love for Proctor to the boys who have been caught speeding there.

Dot Fiske leaves her fetching ways to the Western Union.

Gerry Pulling leaves to become Henry's understudy as secretary of the interior.

Ray Whetmore leaves his laugh to be used as a preview for the "Phantom City."

Margaret Lloyd and Altha Hudson leave their blond hair to Stepin Fetchet.

Vic Pisanelli leaves his best record in putting the shot to be broken by the students of a newly formed athletic department for kindergartens.

Caroline Cavanaugh, Jennie Lanzillo, and Mae McKearin leave their quiet ways to anybody who can stand them.

Charlotte Philburt leaves a bushel basket to Quincy Baker to aid him in catching stray dogs.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

MARION WILDER leaves her enormous hair ribbons to anyone claiming an artistic temperament like Heath's. He admires 'em.

And so with the knowledge that all things which commence shall inevitably end, we, the authors of this fair document, leave this, the remnant of our High School days, in the sole executive care of one Gerald Hop Hostler who is said by many to be of sound mind and body; and we hope that the remarks contained herein will be received with the same spirit as that in which they are given.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of 1935, the testators, have to this, our last will and testament, set our hand and seal this eleventh day of June, Anno Domini, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Thirty-Five.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

BACK ROW: R. Holland, W. Ryan, W. Onion, B. Brown.
FRONT ROW: J. Sanders, V. Eklund, M. Kent, M. Rossiter, B. Gilbert, E. T. Dooks Faculty Adviser, M. Bessette, P. Kazon.

The aims of the National Honor Society are: to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the pupils of Rutland High School.

Each year the faculty chooses, according to the required percentage, those juniors and seniors who have best incorporated these ideals of scholarship, service, leadership, and character in their school lives.

The initiation of new members is one of the most impressive ceremonies performed in the school. At this ceremony, which is conducted by the older members of the society, each initiate is presented with a pin bearing the emblem which is representative of the organization.

Members in the society take part in many extra-curricular activities, such as debating, dramatic productions, and athletics. Many contribute their services to the "Red and White," the school's weekly newspaper, and several are monitors and class officers. In these ways and in many others the members of the National Honor Society serve their school and live up to its ideals.

The year 1934-1935 found the Red and White again carrying on in its role as purveyor of school news and student opinion under the direction of the editor-in-chief, Philip Kazon, and the business manager, William Onion, who were aided by their respective faculty advisers, Miss Frances W. Field and Mr. Andrew J. Boratis. As usual, subscribers received thirty issues, distributed on Tuesday afternoons or Wednesday mornings.

An important change was made this year in the administration of the paper. With the purpose of making the Red and White more truly representative of the entire school than hitherto, several underclass members were included on the staff. In this way the paper has become a school activity rather than purely a senior one. In addition, the underclass staff-members have benefited from a year's experience and consequently are well fitted for the responsible positions they hold for next year.

Another innovation was the Freshman issue, which appeared, printed on green paper, on the first day of school and which was distributed gratis to all students. A special Halloween issue was also printed in color, as well as the usual Christmas and Easter numbers.

The Red and White enjoyed the distinction of being the only paper in its class in New England to receive a first prize in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Competition. In addition, a special scholarship prize of $100 for excellence in news writing was won in the University of Vermont contest, and the paper was awarded second honors among the 1127 publications judged in the N. S. P. A. competition sponsored by the University of Minnesota.

The Mimes, dramatic club for aspirants to stage and screen fame, has completed its third successful year under the directorship of Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine.

In 1935, officers for the Mimes were: president, Dorris Fish; vice president, Dorothy Smith; secretary, Jean Brehmer; and treasurer, William Pratt. During the first semester each member was required to give an oral report of a one-act play; discussions of play directing, stage equipment, and stage lighting were held; and demonstrations of make-up for "straight" and for "character" parts were given by the director and followed by actual practice among the members. Meetings of the second semester were devoted to student directed one-act plays.

According to custom, the Mimes produced for the public a three-act comedy, "A Week-end Princess," early in February. The cast was: Teresa, Dorothy Smith; Johnny Fogarty, William Pratt; Alma, Dorris Fish; Cuticura Brown, Phyllis Kinney; June Callahan, Caroline Carder; August II, Maurice Roberge; Terry Rafferty, Burke McHugh; Ignatius Popopulous, Arthur Wolk; Gottlieb, Charles McClallen; Maggie Rafferty, Anna Pease; Louise, Jane Fenton; and Grogan, Clarence Brown.

The proceeds from this play were used to purchase several small pieces of furniture for stage use and a second complete interior setting for the high school stage. Mimes members, under the supervision of Mr. Van Iderstine, constructed and painted this setting.

After much thought and deliberation "Peter Flies High" was selected as the annual senior production, and upon its presentation by the class of 1935 another success was added to the long list of plays ably directed by Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine.

The play was full of humorous situations which were admirably portrayed by the excellent cast which interpreted the various roles. "Peter Flies High" is one of those comedies which keep the audience in good humor.

The cast, chosen from a group of enthusiastic seniors, is as follows:

Mrs. Turner.....Amelia Romano
Mrs. Brooks.....Katherine Morton

The Forensic Society, debating club of Rutland High School, under the guidance of Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill and Miss Katherine F. Culliney, faculty advisers, has inaugurated several new plans during the year 1934-1935.

First, the club conducted a drive for new members from all of the classes, including the freshman class; then the club was divided into five teams, each of which debated all of the others. The teams which ranked the highest staged a championship debate in assembly on the proposition, Resolved: That the several states should adopt legislation providing to the citizens, at nominal cost, general medical care and the services of hospitals and clinics. At this time Roberta Parker and Melba Crowley won from Margaret Kent and Dorothy Coburn, thereby becoming school champions.

Another innovation in R. H. S., that of the open forum debate, has been tried out this year, with anyone welcome to come and speak on the selected topic of the day, under the supervision of a chairman from the club. These open forum discussions have been on such topics as "Can commencement be cheaper?" and "Should movies be censored?" — subjects of interest to the average school pupil. The discussions were held alternately with debates, staged between teams chosen from the club.

This year there have been no debates with other schools as our organization did not join the Vermont Inter-scholastic Debating League.

The season of 1934-1935 brought a new extra-curricular activity to Rutland High School in the form of the Art Club. Early in the year the name, Bomartre Club, was officially adopted by the members, and officers were elected.

The object of the club is to give those who have no art classes an opportunity to do drawing and craft work, and to give those who do attend such classes a chance to do extra work, following their particular interests and talents.

Under the leadership of its officers, president, Mary Houston; vice-president, Barbara Elkey; secretary, Charlotte Nourse; and treasurer, Martha Loveland, and with the assistance of the faculty adviser, Miss Lucy Doane, the Bomartre Club has enjoyed an interesting and successful season. It has held its regular meetings on Wednesday afternoons, the members working on various projects from decorative panels to masks of people, real and imaginary.

One of its contributions to the high school was work on the scenery for the production "Look Who's Here." The club also very ably assisted in preparing material for the Art Exhibit held during the Tri-County Teachers' Convention held here in May.

At times the work of the members has been correlated with projects in both English and Latin classes through the carving of figures in soap. Club members have shown interest in leather-tooling and next year plan to adopt this activity as one of their major interests.

The Rutland High School band has, in the past two years, made rapid progress under the able directorship of Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine.

This year the band played at most of the high school football games, including some which were played in other towns. They played also at two sessions of the Southern Vermont Rotary Basketball Tournament and at two sessions of the District Basketball Tournament. On each of these occasions the band exhibited clever and effective marching formations.

Free music lessons were offered to all of those who were interested in playing in the band this year, and several students took advantage of the offer. Twenty sweaters were purchased for members of the band from the proceeds of the musical comedies presented last year and this.

The Rutland High School orchestra has steadily increased in size under the direction of Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine. This year there have been forty members in the full orchestra and fourteen members in the pit orchestra.

The full orchestra has played at two of the school plays, the Senior play, "Peter Flies High," and the Mimes play, "Week-end Princess"; and the pit orchestra played at the musical comedy, "Look Who's Here."

Several times during the year the full orchestra has played during assemblies, and twice this year they presented, with the chorus, musical assemblies, one of which was the Green Mountain Christmas Assembly. In addition to these activities the full orchestra played at the Tri-County Teachers' Convention.

The members have learned and played several new pieces this year, among which were: Golden Sceptre Overture, Cup Winner, Petite Suite, Gavotte, Chinese Temple Garden, School Spirit, Monastery Garden, Valse, Prince Charming, Golden Trumpet Overture, and Pomp and Chivalry.

The Camera Club has been organized a little over a year and is composed of a group of students who are particularly interested in the development of photography as a hobby.

It is the plan of the club to direct such activities as are within the abilities of the members and to furnish an incentive to attempt new projects in photography.

The wide divergence of abilities and technical knowledge of the members of the club requires a comparatively loosely knit organization. Although this may be a disadvantage in one respect, it is partially overcome by the opportunity which results for student cooperation, the experienced pupils aiding the beginners The more advanced problems of photography are dealt with by the project method, usually outside of a regular meeting and with several students and the faculty adviser, Mr. F. Harris Leavitt, working together.

The various activities are largely under the direction of the officers of the club, who are as follows: president, Joseph Barton; vice-president, John Landry; and secretary-treasurer, Grace Moore.

Rutland's football fortunes were not in keeping with the best traditions, the team remaining in the doldrums of mediocrity which have beset it for the past three years.

At the start of the season it appeared that the "Raiders" were destined for better things, victories over Bellows Falls, Windsor, and Poultney high schools presaging a period of success. But in the fourth game of the season, at Springfield, the first of a long list of casualties took its toll, and the record went from bad to worse. Springfield's 12-0 victory was followed by a Burlington conquest, 22-0; a West Rutland triumph, 19-0; with only a 6-6 tie with Fair Haven interrupting the series of defeats which concluded with a final "coup de grace" by Spaulding High of Barre, State Champions, 27-0.

Much of this sorry record can be attributed to an unprecedented series of injuries to first-string players, Lafosa, "Pete" Corsones, Gouchoe, Reed, Murphy, Crowley, and "Harmie" Bove all being put out of commission when badly needed. Not even the stubborn defensive play of Rounds, Trombley, Filie, and the other loyal survivors could overcome these handicaps. Even in defeat the team showed some streaks of fine play and never gave up trying, winning the respect of all opponents in victory and defeat.

Putting forth one of the best drilled teams in the state, Mr. Ellery Purdy concluded his final year as basketball coach. Despite the fact that this year's team did not meet all of the major teams of the state, they proved themselves worthy of notice by winning ten of their fifteen games against hard opposition.

Rutland was defeated in the opening round of the Rotary Club Southern Vermont Tournament by West Rutland. The score, 27 to 26, only in part implies the type of game played; many said it was one of the best games ever seen in tournament play here. In the Southwest District encounter the Red and White made a come-back by defeating Proctor, the winner of the Southern Vermont in the opening round, only to fall before the inspired play of Bennington High School in the finals. Bennington was runner-up to Montpelier in the State Championship.

The highlights of the season were: two decisive victories over Mount Saint Joseph Academy of Rutland for the city championship, the precision of play which enabled them to defeat Proctor 30-20 in the district tourney, and the placement of Harmond Bove on the first team selection of both tournaments and George Laird and Charles Gallagher on district team selections. These and many other details will remain in the memory of those who followed the fortunes of this smoothly working quintet.

With seven veterans of the previous season and many real freshman prospects answering the call of Coach Guild, the Rutland High School baseball team began its 1935 season about May 1. The unsettled weather and the condition of the field made necessary the postponement of the first game until May 8.

After a continuation of the building-up process started the previous year, the Raiders ushered in the current season by trouncing an undefeated West Rutland aggregation by 14-3. Two more victories were added at the expense of Black River Academy of Ludlow and Pittsford High School by 6-1 and 5-4 scores.

The nine then drifted into the doldrums and dropped contests to Fair Haven and West Rutland High Schools by narrow margins. Brandon High and an alumni team furnished the opposition as the Raiders jumped back into the winning column by 13-1 and 5-3 counts on the following week.

The Red and White then lost to M. S. J. in the first of the city series games, but proceeded to trounce Proctor High School by 13-0.

At this writing the Raiders have won six games in nine starts and there are two remaining contests. The team has scored 71 points as compared to 35 for its opponents. The present team batting average is .315. Those seniors on this year's aggregation who have perhaps played their final role in athletics at R. H. S. are: Captain Al Filie, Paul Thomas, Ray McMahon, Charlie Gallagher, Bob Catozzi, Doug Hayden, and Bill Weeks.

Represented by more than average strength or speed in every event, the track team of 1935 fared far better than any of its predecessors of the past five years. Dual meets with Bellows Falls and Springfield were won by scores 75-42 and 93-24, presaging championship possibilities. But our old nemesis, Burlington, with most of its championship talent of the previous year intact, emerged as the principal barrier. They won the triangular meet from Rutland and Spaulding and went on to capture both the Brattleboro Invitation Meet and the State Championship at Norwich. In both of the latter events Rutland was third, which, considering the number of teams competing and the high caliber of the performances, was no mean achievement.

The outstanding performers were: Bradford, who lost only one mile race all season and in that forced his conqueror to a new state record; Moore, State winner in the low hurdles and a consistent broad-jumper; Bove, our main reliance in the weights; Lloyd, co-champion in the pole-vault and our most versatile performer in years; Adams, Crowley, La Fossa, Sanders, Bailey, Cook, and Guynup all contributed valuable points to aid the team's success.

The tennis season of 1935 is now well underway, and indications point to a successful campaign. Under the direction of Coaches Richard F. Hayden and F. Harris Leavitt, the team has participated in four matches. Spaulding and the Alumni have been defeated, and a three-all match played with Proctor. The sole defeat was inflicted by Green Mountain Junior College. Matches will be played with West Rutland, Bellows Falls, Springfield, and Mount Saint Joseph's Academy. The season will close with the annual State Inter-scholastic Tournament held this year at Middlebury.

An interesting and successful innovation was the fall tournament, which was open to all students and was won by George Laird, '35. The fall doubles contest was won by Phil Kazon and Ray Kantor. A novice tournament, open to all students never before having participated in such an event, attracted many contestants.

An all-school singles tournament is now being held in conjunction with the Physical Education classes. A bronze medallion, donated by the "Scholastic" and "Scholastic Coach" magazines, will be awarded the winner. The numerous tournaments have done much to increase local interest in tennis and have uncovered several promising players. These factors, together with the splendid facilities for tennis, and the loss by graduation of comparatively few players — Beauchamp, Chandler, Kazon, and Ryan, should keep the Rutland teams to the high standard of previous years.

Field hockey is an important sport in the inter-class athletic activities available to the girls of Rutland High School.

This year the field hockey season was very successful. In response to the first call of Miss Louise Willis, teacher of physical education, seventy-six candidates, including fifteen seniors, twenty-two juniors, twenty-two sophomores, and seventeen freshmen, reported. After several weeks of practice, strong teams were organized, and an inter-class tournament was held.

Conquering all of its foes in fast but close contests, the Senior class team won the tournament championship. In all of the games of the tournament keen competition, combined with good sportsmanship and teamwork, prevailed.

The following girls were elected as captains and managers of their teams:

SENIORS		SOPHOMORES
Captain	M. BESSETTE	Captain	M. OAKMAN
Manager	B. BROWN	Manager	L. OWENS
JUNIORS		FRESHMEN
Captain	J. BREHMER	Captain	J. HINCKLEY
Manager	M. REYNOLDS	Manager	E. RIVERS

The members of the Girls' Leaders' Corps, who are representatives from the Senior and Junior classes, are elected for their athletic ability and for their qualities of leadership, scholarship, and sportsmanship. This society was organized to encourage not only athletic activities among the girls of the high school, but also the development of the other qualities represented in the Girls' Leaders' Corps.

During the past year, this organization, which is under the supervision of Miss Louise Willis, participated in the first state dance festival in Vermont. This festival, which was held in the Rutland High School gymnasium, has paved the way for future exhibitions in the art of dancing.

The Girls' Leaders' Corps also sponsored a successful tea dance for the enjoyment of the student body. The committee in charge of this dance consisted of Shirley Stafford and Mary Shakespeare.

Many of the members, including Eileen Baird, Helen Rutkowski, Mary Shakespeare, and Shirley Stafford, have acted as officials in the physical education classes and in the home room and inter-class tournaments. By learning to be officials and by accepting the responsibility of arranging tournaments, these girls not only help the intra-mural activities of the school, but they also develop leadership and ability for future participation in gymnasium work in higher schools.

Under the supervision of the physical education director, Mr. Richard F. Hayden, the Boys' Leaders' Corps has completed its sixth consecutive year at Rutland High School.

Throughout the year thirty-six members have devoted at least one afternoon after school each week to Corps meetings and practice sessions. For the first year since the organization of the Corps each member purchased a standard uniform.

On several occasions the boys held session on Saturday. Twice during the year the Corps played host to outside organizations — the Mercury Club of Rutland and the R. H. S. Alumni.

In addition to holding responsible positions in the regular gymnasium periods as leaders, the members made possible the sponsoring of several tournaments, thereby making opportunity for excellent competitive sport among the boys of the school. These tourneys were held in such branches of sport as volley ball, hand ball, soccer, basketball, soft ball, and the pentathlon.

At the completion of the year's work the members were entitled to the official emblem. This award is based upon the ability and dependability of the boy.

It has been Mr. Hayden's ambition to produce wider interest in a variety of sport, rather than specialization in one, and the development of a sense of responsibility in each member. This aim has been realized in commendable style by the program followed this year.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Our summer school offers short, intensive courses in beginning and advanced shorthand, accounting, arithmetic, English, penmanship, spelling, dictaphone, typewriting, Secretarial Science, etc. Full credit is allowed for previous commercial training. Term will open July 8th and continue mornings only for six weeks. There are attractive opportunities ahead for young people who will secure the specialized training which employers require. Nearly a half century of good work behind us. Ask now for information.
